Answers to some commonly asked questions about CRRC's Louie Pellegrini IV Memorial Safety Road-E-O

1. Who was Louie Pellegrini IV?

Louie worked at his family business, Peninsula Sanitary Service, Inc., at Stanford University for 15 years. On June 26, 2010 Louie lost his battle with Synovial Sarcoma. He fought the disease with courage and dignity, much in the same way he lived his life. He was 30 years old. Also fondly known as "#4", Louie was a frequent participant in the Road-e-o event and we are proud to rename this event in his honor.

2. What is the cost of attending this event?

There is a minimum fee for individual and team participants, per the enclosed registration packet. These fees increase if your registration forms are received after September 7, 2012. However, there is no charge for family members, non-participants and volunteers to attend. And breakfast and lunch are always served at no charge.

4. Is there a limit to the number of contestants a company can register for the CRRC Truck & Mechanic Safety Road-e-o competition, or the number of guests allowed?

While there is no limit to the number of contestants by CRRC Member Companies, non-CRRC Member Companies are limited to a total of 16 contestants. However, the number of guests and family members allowed is unlimited. The more the merrier! NO ON-SITE CHANGES WILL BE ALLOWED!

5. What are the criteria for competing as a company team?

The Team Competition consists of three drivers (from four different classes) and one mechanic.

6. Can a driver compete in more than one class?

Sorry, no.

7. What if I would like to attend, but do not wish to compete in any of the events? Can my family attend also?

No problem. This is a great opportunity to spend the day outdoors with friends and family, and plenty of spectators will be needed to cheer on those who are competing in the various activities. Simply register on the Non-Participant and Non-Volunteer Registration Form that is included in the Registration Packet so that we may include you in the breakfast and lunch headcount.
